Message from Guest of Honor

2020 has been a momentous year both locally and internationally with the COVID-19 pandemic affecting various facets of society – from medical planning to economic disruptions and even social interactions amongst family and friends.

We take comfort in seeing the photographic community staying passionate about their photographic craft and rising above these challenges. Even though travel is out for the time being, we see photographers taking many images as a photo record of 2020; and rediscovering Singapore with its many different photographic opportunities. We can also see the same creative spirit from the international community.

Despite the pandemic, technological development continues to progress. We remain committed to serving the needs of the photographic community and had recently launched several cameras including our well received EOS R5 and R6 mirrorless cameras, as well as an arsenal of RF lenses to push the envelope of photographic possibilities. Beyond our dedication to produce innovative products and technologies, Canon is guided by our corporate philosophy of Kyosei, which means 'living and working together for the common good', to contribute to the community in which we operate and ensure sustainability for the natural environment.

I am glad that The Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) has successfully conducted the 67th edition of the prestigious Singapore International Photography Awards (SIPA), which is an important annual event in the photographic circuit. With over 8600 entries from around the World and Singapore, this shows the continued appeal that photography has.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all the winners of the 67th SIPA on their achievements. I would also like to congratulate the SIPA Committee of PSS for taking the initiative and adapting to the new norm of broadcasting digitally the official opening of the Exhibition to your members, invited guests and the participants of the 67th SIPA Competition worldwide.

Your success in organizing this prestigious annual international event for 67 years has helped to further strengthen PSS' reputation as the National Body of Photography in Singapore and internationally.

I hope that you will enjoy the creative and beautiful images that are exhibited and more importantly, allow these images to bring the world and people together in common photographic enjoyment.

President and CEO, Canon Singapore

Message from PSS President

The Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) is proud to present the 67th Singapore International Photography Awards (SIPA 2020).

SIPA received an overwhelming response from photographers worldwide despite the global outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic. Many of the 8,673 photos received this year reflected the authors' concern and feelings about the epidemic situation.

I like to congratulate all winners and participants for submitting your beautiful works; the Judges; and Salon Chairman Jack Goh and his committee members for their continuing efforts in making SIPA another success.

Photography is the best pastime during this pandemic period. Let's continue to stay home and unleash your creativity.

GOH KIM HUI

PSS President

Message from SIPA Chairman

SIPA 2020 attracted 8,673 entries with 484 entrants from 61 countries and regions, an increase of 35% compared with last year.

Judging the large number of entries was extremely challenging. The judges had a hard time in determining the winners. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the panel of judges for their contributions especially during this COVID-19 pandemic period.

Congratulations to all winners and accepted authors. Your works accepted by SIPA are eligible for PSS exhibitor distinctions.

I like to take this opportunity to thank the Salon Committee Members for your commitments and those who helped in one way or other in making the SIPA 2020 another success.

Once again, I like to thank all participants; and advertisers for your continuing support.

Looking forward to seeing your works again next year.

About Selegie Arts Centre

The Selegie Arts Centre

at 30 Selegie Road was allocated to the Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) in 1995, under the National Arts Council Arts Housing Scheme. Its location in the heart of the city, easily accessible via bus or MRT (Dhoby Ghaut), has enabled to increase its membership and make the centre a focal point for photographic art in Singapore.

PSS raised $225,000 from its members (most of which from Lady Yuen Peng McNeice) ●●●

The gallery on the third storey of the building (Loke Wan Tho Gallery) was named in memory of Datok Loke Wan Tho, former Vice President and a distinguished member of the Society. His reputed work on bird studies together with the prestigious awards he had won in photography in the fifties were displayed at the gallery.

The gallery has since been the venue of many group and solo exhibitions of renowned photographers including Japanese Magnum photographer Hiroji Kubota and PSS Honorary Life Members: Lady Yuen Peng McNeice, and members of parliament; Mr Mah Bow Tan, Mr Sidek Saniff, Dr Ho Kah Leong and Mr Yatiman Yusof. ●●●

About SIPA

67th
Singapore
International
Photography
Awards 2020

The first International Photographic Exhibition was organised by the Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) in 1957 after it took over the event from the Singapore Arts Society. A year later, PSS held its first biennial Foto Fair in conjunction with the Salon. The Exhibition was later renamed as Singapore International Salon of Photography, or SIP.

The SIP held annually and over the years, has witnessed the evolution of the various genres of photography, from the traditional darkroom techniques, such as solarisation, diazochrome, etc. to the present digital imaging techniques.

In 2000, the SIP was renamed as the Singapore International Salon of Creative Photography, and six years later it was known as Singapore International Photography Awards (SIPA) till today.

The objective of the rebranding is to differentiate SIPA from the traditional international salons, while preserving the values it has inherited.

SIPA has also increased the number of sections to cater to photographers with different interests to showcase their works.

The SIPA Exhibition Distinctions were introduced in 2014 to reward and recognise regular participants of the Singapore International Photograph Awards.
